DESCRIPTION OF SERIES

Space does not permit full coverage of the many facts that happened in each of these schools nor is it possible to identify and recognize all of the hundreds of teachers and support personnel that are the major part of the school district history. The following is, therefore limited to a few basic facts regarding each school.

The first segment summarizes the five high schools general information

The second segment briefly reviews, in order, the nine junior high schools. All have since been terminated as junior high schools and either closed, or have been reorganized as middle schools or as elementary schools.

The third segment lists, also in chronological order, all of the 35 elementary schools that at some time were in operation.

HIGH SCHOOLS

Highline High School

The original building consisted of but 14 classrooms constructed during 1923 at a cost of but $150,000. Over the next 42 years, seven different additions of from four to twelve classrooms each shaped the school as it now appears. More recently there has also been a major modernization that retained the exterior integrity and appearance of the original design.

In 1956 the enrollment at the school reached an all time high of 2,219 students in the upper three grades. This far exceeded the capacity and resulted in such expediencies as very large study halls, staggered schedules with some students arriving earlier and early dismissals arranged of r many students. As other district high schools were constructed during the 1950s and 1960s, enrollment at Highline High School was able to be contained at a more reasonable level.

Evergreen High School

During the year 1955, thirty-three classrooms were constructed and in the fall of 1956 opened with freshmen and sophomores who would have attended Highline High school. During subsequent years, 1962 and 1964, additions were completed bringing Evergreen up to 59 classrooms plus necessary auxiliary facilities. As a three year high school, Evergreen reached its peak enrollment in 1981 with 1,577 students.

Mt. Rainier High School

It opened in 1958 with nearly 300 students in grade 10. The 11th graders felt somewhat left out at Highline and by mid-year, they and their parents proposed moving all 11th graders to the new school. Mt Rainier became a full three year high school during its second year.

Glacier High School

The new school opened initially with 30 classrooms and an auditorium, music facilities, cafeteria, gymnasium and administrative offices. A later reached for the three-year high school. Glacier like Mt. Rainier High school, quickly established itself and developed its own identity.

Tyee High School

The fifth high school to open during the rapid growth period in the Highline District. A policy decision to keep high schools at a mid-size rather than allow them to become too large, resulted in resulting the last of the high school planned to serve this area, Tyee was constructed during 1962 on a 16.5 acre tract on East 188th street.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Puget Sound Junior High School

As Highline High School, with its five grade levels, filled to overflowing, it was deemed necessary to provide a junior high school to serve the 8th and 9th graders. Puget Sound, the District's first junior high school, was under construction during 1948-9 and opened in the fall of 1949. The first building consisted of 22 classrooms. Eleven more were added in 1952 and an industrial arts building in 1957, making a total of 34 teaching stations on the relatively small 9.5 acres site.

Sylvester Junior High school

In order to relieve double shifting at Puget Sound, an urgent second junior high school needed to be quickly built. In 1953 Sylvester opened with Principal Bill Graham. The clear story design providing better interior lighting and glass brick brightening classrooms, were then considered innovations.

Olympic Junior High School

In 1955 Olympic opened with Ed Firt as principal. The first unit consisted of 15 classrooms. Two later additions in 1955 and 1966 brought the total teaching stations to 40. A 16.1 acre site had been carved out of an area rapidly filling with homes. Olympic grew rapidly and reached an enrollment of 982 by 1968.

Cascade Junior High school

A continuing need for classrooms to house the burgeoning student population led in 1957 to the construction of Cascade and Chinook Junior High Schools. Cascade was located on the north portion of the Evergreen High School site which had been enlarged to 44.95 acres. These schools were designed to share the track and field facilities. The campus style school began with 26 classrooms. Two subsequent additions brought the total classrooms to 34. Despite the many new schools being built, Cascade was soon overloaded with 1,004 students.

Chinook Junior High School

Along with Cascade, Chinook opened in 1957 with a first unit of 13 classrooms. Construction tried to keep up with students with additions in 1960, 1967 and 1968. In 1970 an upgrading of facilities was also carried out. Despite additions, overcrowding still resulted with 1,091 students enrolled by 1969. This was further complicated by sharing some space with Tyee High School and with the adjacent County Parks land.

Sunset Junior High School

Completed in 1958, Sunset Junior High School survived just 15 years. Robert Sealey was assigned the first principalship as he opened Sunset. Shortly after Sunset was in operation, work began on a "second" runway at SeaTac. Sunset was impacted severely and by 1975 the site was no longer tenable. It was transferred to the Port of Seattle as part of the settlement of a suit by the district against the port.

Seahurst Junior High School

Seahurst and Pacific were completed in 1959, bringing nine the number of junior high schools in operation. Seahurst started with 22 classrooms and added three more for a total of 25 stations. Seahurst was never intended to become a large school as the 8.3 acre site was not adequate for expansion. The greatest number of students enrolled was 585 during the 1969 school year. Shortly thereafter, the secondary enrollment began to level off and subsequently began to decline.

In 1976, after 17 years as a junior high school, Seahurst was closed and soon was converted to an elementary school as Lake Burien was permanently closed. In 1992 it was demolished and a new two story elementary was constructed to serve an enlarged service area.

Pacific Junior High School

Pacific opened in 1960, 22 classrooms were added in 1969 bringing total to 31 in the six separate buildings. Pacific also grew rapidly, reaching 904 students by 1979. In 1980 a modernization and noise reduction was carried out as a result of litigation against the Port of Seattle because of increase in flights, size of planes and noise from SeaTac use.

Glendale Junior High School

As the last junior high was readied for opening, there were signs that the rapid growth of the past 20 years was beginning to slow. Glendale was one of those last to open. Getting a site in the north end posed some difficulties. 14.6 acres was finally acquired, including a small piece of Glendale Golf course. In 1963, Glendale opened with Dale Linebarger as principal. Designed by creative architect Fred Bassetti, and staffed with progressive teachers, this was the logical place for forward looking, non-traditional programs to be explored. This attractive school on a view site, became the center of wide interest in its many innovative program features.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Angle Lake

The second area school was the Angle Lake one room school of 1887. SO far no photos have surfaced of the school taught by a Miss Buckley. A four room school was built in 1936 and was added to in 1942, 1949 and in 1953 to make the present 15 room school. Angle Lake was never a large school, having but 332 pupils at tis greatest enrollment. In 1975 this school was closed permanently because of increased jet noise, increased traffic in this area (next to SeaTac Airport) and declining enrollment.

Des Moines:

The first one room school was built in 1892, a four classroom building was constructed in 1914 at the present site. This school burned and was replaced in 1925 with a four brick structure. Six additions of from 2 to 4 classrooms each from 1934 to 1964 brought the total up to the current 21 rooms. Although the site was but 4 acres, being adjacent to the County field allowed space for various activities. Des Moines overflowed with pupils in 1967 with 693 in attendance.

Sunnydale:

The four room school of 1904 was turned 90 degrees in 1938 to become the south portion of the present day Sunnydale School. Four additions brought the school to its 20 classrooms. At one time, Sunnydale enrolled 685 pupils in those 20 classrooms. The school was closed in 1981. It was recently reopened as elementary enrollment is again slowly increasing.

Mt. View

The first school in the north end of the district in 1893. It was in 1910 that a two room school was built on the present site. Seven additions in the years of 1916, 1918, 1926, 1930, 1940, 1942 and 1962 brought the teaching stations up to 30 in number. These were needed as 765 pupils filled the school All of this occurred on the 6.4 acre site.

Gravel Pit School

In 1898 a one room school built near where a gravel pit had been, operated for only 11 years. The enrollment never exceeded 13 pupils. When Southern Heights and Riverton heights were built, Gravel Pit School ceased to exist. The original site was approximately where the present Hilltop Elementary is now situated.

Riverton Heights

In 1909 a school was constructed in the Riverton Heights area. This four room building was closed in 1937 when Boulevard Park was opened. It was used as a community center for years until it burned in 1958.

Manhattan

The original Manhattan School in 1902, was replaced by a two room school located where first Ave. South and 19th now is. This school was built by parents to avoid the long walk through wooded trails to Des Moines or Sunnydale. It was closed just before consolidation formed the Unified Highline District #401. The building was sold and then demolished during 1962.

South Heights

Opened in 1909 along with Riverton. It too close in 1937 when Boulevard Park was completed. It also became a community center until 1955 when it was replaced with a new 8 room bulding. A year later classrooms were added making it a 15 room school. The 6.6 acre site remained, in part a community playground as well.

Lake Burien

Lake Burien was not started until 1913. The original four room bulding was used until a new 8 room school was built in the early 1930s. The original building was used as a community-meeting place a boy scout headquarters until it was demolished to make room for an addition to the new school. Life Magazine included a photo of Lake Burien with pupils packed at every open window. In 1976, Lake Burien was finally closed and later sold. The building. The building was finally demolished and a neighborhood park was created there.

Boulevard Park

In 1937 a new 10 room school opened to serve the Riverton-Southern Heights areas. With this enw centrally located school, both Riverton and Southern Heights were closed. The 10 room school became 22 with additions in 1940, 1942 and 1949. It did not take Boulevard long to reach an overload of 715 pupils. The school was closed in 1980 and has since been used as a warehouse for the district.

White Center Heights

The World War II effort brought many new people into the area. The federal government iniated the White center and the Lakewood housing developments. TO compensate the school district for the additional children coming into the area, federal funding was provided for a new school on a 9.7 acre tract. The first 11 rooms were completed in 3 months during the summer of 1943 with four more added in 1962. By 1967 there were 690 pupils enrolled with another 174 in a nearby white center primary.

McMicken

Growth east of highway 99 necessitated placing a school there. A 6.5 acre site was acquired and in 1948 a six room elementary school was constructed. Rosella Roff was assigned as head teacher until 1950 when a five-room enlargement allowed her to become a principal.

Hazel Valley

In a area where few sites were still available, 8.9 acres purchased in 1945. Fourteen classrooms were constructed during 1946-47 with four more added in 1953. A multipurpose room was added in 1957. The enrollment reached a peak of 640 pupils by 1967 which was an overload for the 17 classrooms.

Shorewood

In 1961 a 10 room school was quickly built on a minimal site of 7.8 acres. A year later 6 rooms were added and 2 years later another 6 making 22 room in all. All were needed as 655 pupils soon enrolled.

Gregory Heights

Overcrowded lake Burien was to be relieved by construction of a 9 room at a site in Gregory Heights. The 1952 building was enlarged in 1954 and again in 1962 making 23 classrooms available. In 1966 two kindergarten classrooms built by local parents on that site, were deeded to the district as kindergartens were now a part of the district program.

Olympic

The school resulted as the Olympic Junior High School was closed in 1979. The 1954 building totaling 40 classrooms was reorganized as an elementary using 28 of the classrooms. Some of the rooms are currently devoted to a child care center.

Beverly Park

In 1950 the new school were immediately increased to 14 classrooms. This small neighborhood school soon enrolled 430 pupils. It could not be enlarged further as the site was a mere 3.8 acres in size. Beverly Park reached a high level of community involvement.

Midway

During the four year period 18 new schools were constructed. Midway was one of those. On a 10 acre site that was part of a larger site shared by Pacific Junior High School and by Mt. Rainier High School, Midway began with seven classrooms. Nine more were added in 1956 bringing it up to 16 total stations. Noise remediation was completed in 1979 as part of a Port of Seattle Airport settlement.

Cedarhurst

During 1954 the 13 room Cedarhurst Elementary was completed. A 1957 addition increased to 19 the teaching stations. Acquiring the 6.1 acre site was an experience with 17 different owners, largely because a part of many long lots had to be negotiated. Like all schools of that time, enrollment continued to swell. By 1966 as total of 642 pupils were enrolled. Jean Anderson opened this school and served the first six years as principal.

Bow Lake

This school was completed in 1954. Like many others it began with 8 classrooms with additions following in rapid succession. Three buildings on a 9.1 acre site soon bustled with a peak enrollment of 830 pupils.

Normandy Park

The First school in the area was opened in 1953. Enrollment reached a peak by 1968 after which a gradual decline occurred. In 1980 the school was closed and Marvista Elementary served the entire Normandy Park area. Central Washington University purchased by the City of Normandy Park for a city hall.

Burien Heights

To relieve the pressure on several neighboring schools the small school was built in 1954. The 3.4 acre site allowed only two more rooms added in 1957. Along with many schools, Burien Heights was closed in 1975 as enrollment plunged. Since then it has been utilized as a senior center sponsored by Highline Community College

Salmon Creek

Another 8 room starter school was constructed on the Salmon Creek site. This was increased to 16 classrooms within two years. Serving 540 pupils at its peak, Salmon Creek joined the building avalanche during those years.

Lakeview

Again an inadequate site of but 4.7 acres was all that was available in this well settled area. Eight classrooms at first and increased by four, was all that the site could support. Four classrooms were later destroyed by fire, leaving only eight for use.

North Hill

Thirteen acres were acquired in the North Hill area. Twelve, then 10 classrooms made 22 rooms available. By 1975 a peak enrollment of 592 had been reached North Hill closed in 1979 and was leased to a private school. Growth in enrollment caused it to be reopened in 1989.

Marvista

In 1957 a seven room school was opened at Marvista. Nine more were added in 1968 bringing it to 16. Portables and later upgrading were needed to serve the top enrollment of 498 pupils. With the closing of Normandy Park, Marvista continued to grow. Marvista earned honors from the State PTA as the outstanding unit in the entire state. Parent involvement has been the chief characteristic of Marvista.

Hilltop

An 8.3 acre site at approximately the same place where the 1898 Gravel Pit School had been, became the location for Hilltop Elementary. Seven classrooms with nine more following soon, brought Hilltop to its current 16 rooms. The largest enrollment occurred in 1957 when 452 were in attendance. Hilltop was more recently upgraded and modernized.

Crestview

Also opening in 1957 was a ten room school east of Highway 99. Crestview was enlarged by 4 classrooms to provide 14 teaching stations. Don Weeks was the first principal to serve, followed by Don Sayan 1959-66, Art Rogers 1966-69 and Maurice Bright until 1976 when this school was closed after 19 years as an elementary school. It was leased for a few years and currently serves as a storage facility

Sunny Terrace

The school was another hurriedly built neighborhood school attempting to alleviate overcrowding and to avoid constant shifting of pupils to another service area. It was never intended, with its 9.8 acre site, to be more than a small neighborhood school. It was retained at just 12 classrooms. However 291 pupils filled the school by 1965. Wilton Poolman of Sunnydale was the supervising principal at first. Sunny Terrace was closed in 1976 and was leased to a mental health organization.

Maywood

A twelve room elementary opened in 1958 on a 9.2 acre site southwest of SeaTac Airport. The next year it became a 16 room school. When it opened, 200 South Street was unimproved. Though not a large school, Maywood did reach 375 in enrollment by 1967. Since closure, Maywood has been partially leased and also serves as a storage for instructional materials. The second runway at SeaTac, like at Sunset, impacted the ability to operate as a school due to the noise.

Madrona

Sixteen classrooms were constructed in 1959 at the Madrona site in the southeast corner of the district. A community built kindergarten unit on the site was deeded to the district 1962. Madrona survived a fire and reached a peak enrollment of 567. In recent years because of multiple housing developments nearby., Madrona is again under pressure from growing enrollment in an increasingly diverse neighborhood. Madrona claims many dedicated, long tenured teachers on its faculty who work hardtop make it an effective school.

North Shorewood

In 1963 an eight room school was constructed to relieve the overcrowding at Shorewood Elementary. In two years 190 pupils were enrolled at this small neighborhood school. The site was a minimal 4 acres. Twelve years later as enrollment plummeted, North Shorewood was closed and leased as a mental health Facility. In 1989 it was reopened as a preschool/kindergarten center. Arlo Murray at Shorewood was the supervising principal with head teacher assistance.

Seahurst

In 1976 Seahurst Junior High School was closed and converted to an elementary school utilizing the 25 teaching stations. Seahurst was later demolished and replaced limited site (8.3 acres) was a factor in going away from the campus style, one story building of the past.

Parkside

A 14.2 acre site was carved out in the far south areas of the district. Since the building of Parkside in 1959, that area has become saturated with homes. The seven-classroom building was increased to fifteen within four years. A peak enrollment of 633 by 1968 is testimony to the growth in that area. Parkside has since become a primary school with a reputation for parent involvement. Currently an effort is progressing to further its role as a full community school.

Valley View

The last of the surge in school construction was the Valley View Elementary built in 1968. This ten room school was designed with team teaching in mind. Katherine White and her specially selected staff worked hard on innovative approaches to teaching. Students were accepted from throughout the district. A peak enrollment reached 304 stretching the facilities to the maximum.
