Description: Black & White photograph of the third Manhattan School built in 1921

This school was located at the 1st Ave/Normandy (Kelly Road) location and faced Kelly Road. The basement door faced what is now 1st Ave.

This photo appears to have been taken shortly after it was built, as the shingles have not been painted and there doesn't appear to be a rooftop cupola installed yet.

A second copy of the print was found in some school district files in 2022 and added to the file. Note on file says "1925", but photo was probably taken in 1921.

Measurements: 6.5" x 3"

Material: Paper

Description: A photograph of the 1963 addition to the fourth, and last Manhattan School. The photo shows the section that contained the office and faculty room, school nurse's infirmary, food service kitchen, at multi-purpose room at rear, in the 'sway-backed' portion of the building. Landscaping has not been completed.

This building was located very near the site of the very first 1902 Manhattan School on Aaron Dunbar's property.

Stamped on the back is the date April 15, 1963

As of 2022 the buildings still exist and are being used as the Highline School District Highline Big Picture High School

Description: Photograph (A) and two negatives of same (B, C), found in School Files in 2022. Shows classroom block of the 1960, 4th and final Manhattan Elementary School building at 4th Ave So and 186th. Near where the original Manhattan School building was on Aaron Dunbar's property. This is probably right about the time the construction was near completion in 1960. It doesn't look like the property has the 1963 office "sway-backed" building on site yet. As of 2022 the buildings still exist and are being used as the Highline School District Highline Big Picture High School

Description: Six photos and two negatives of NASA's Spacemobile visit to Manhattan School in the early 70s with original scrapbook pages and captions.

A - "Close inspection is given the NASA lifting body #1, which being developed to travel to the moon. NASA representative William S. Horvath, holds model, explaining details to Manhattan fifth graders. Students are David Parks, Betty Vargovich, and Donald James."

B - "Various space landing craft are being studied by Manhattan fifth graders. David Parks and Betty Vargovich study a model of the Boeing lunar orbiter #2, which has provided detailed pictures of moon's surface. Other models of space craft are seen. Donald James shares interest with NASA spacemobile representative William S. Horvath. The spacemobile was made available through the efforts of Charles Hardy, Highline science coordinator. During its two weeks stay, it visited eleven Highline schools."

Description: Four photos of Manhattan Elementary's sixth grade carpentry classes with original scrapbook pages and captions.

A - "Diana Davis paints an original design on a plaque which will be fastened to her bed table. Viewing her work is Kory Lovre (at right) as he pauses a moment from his work on his project. Student at back of room is unidentified. The sixth graders are students of Tom Mirante, Manhattan Elementary School, who have become involved in the carpentry class as a result of a recent geometry unit studied in class."

2023.0001.318a

B - "Three carpenters, Robin McCormick, Steve Hunter, and Wade Williams (L to R at right) are so busy working on their birdhouse project they have no time to pay attention to Tina Wright painting a carry-all. Students are putting to practical application the line segments, arcs, parallel lines and blueprinting."

C - "Manhattan Elementary School sixth graders in carpentry class. George Ray (at right) working on his tool box is getting neighborly help from Dan Good. George also is learning how to use a handplane."
