There are two photos in this collection. The original is 9 1/2" x 13", mounted and the other is a glossy B&W, 8 x 10, with damage to the upper right corner. The scene is of a home in Sunnydale with the Herman Peters family on the steps of the home. Hilda is seated in the center with one of the family's two dogs in her lap. This home was a landmark in the Sunnydale neighborhood until it was vandalized and destroyed in 1968. Hilda lived in the area all her life. Herman was instrumental in bringing telephone and electrical service to the Highline area.
